I am an XM subscriber. I also work in broadcast radio. I made the switch to XM, because the stations that I work for, and the other stations in our market did not offer what i wanted in the way of radio.

XM Satellite Radio should not be put under the microscope because local radio stations have lost touch with their listeners. Rather than tell XM what they can and cannot do, it would seem more fitting to let local radio feel the pressure that is put on them by not listening to the public that supports them.

I also want to make it clear that as a voter I am disgusted that in a time of war a bill such as this is introduced. It seems to me that satellite versus broadcast radio is a debate that can wait for another day.
